this plan develops would be 5.6 million dollars into this concept. The total from Nebraska would be 3.192 million under this plan. This would be spread over three years or just over one million dollars per year. This would give us 38 of the 100 per class students from the State of Nebraska in cooperation with our present program. It appears that the cost out, going over a few years, that if this can be followed would be a quite reasonable cost compared to what we are paying in tuition now. We don't have the final answers in this but it is simply a commitment to reaffirm the resolution passed last year. If there are questions that I could answer, I would try too. There may be others that could do better in answering. Senator Rumery I believe expressed some desire to be a co-introducer and I didn't have time to talk to many Senators. I didn't mean to leave any out, but the Governor had asked for this resolution and I figured I would present it and was very willing to do this. It will probably be Lincoln, if the...under the present planning where the veterinary college would be located. But, I would ask the body to adopt this resolution and recommit to what we did last year regarding the veterinary college.

PRESIDENT: Senator....

SENATOR BURROWS: The page number is 1156. It starts at the bottom of the page of 1156 in the Journal.

PRESIDENT: Senator Schmit.

SENATOR SCHMIT: Mr. President, members of the Legislature, I would defer this time to Senator Lewis and I would rather wait until some of the other questions have been answered.

PRESIDENT: Senator R. Lewis.

SENATOR R. LEWIS: Mr. President, members of the Legislature. I do have an interest in this. I visited with Senator Maresh when he discussed it with me the other day and I visited with Senator Burrows. I did decline to sign as an introducer because I have some questions in this area and I would like to address a question to Senator Burrows if I might. How... Senator Burrows would you yield? How firm are these figures that you are using here? In the newspaper publicity a...two months ago when were holding hearings relative to this, I noticed that there was a wide variance in the projected cost. Are these firm now that we can plan on?

SENATOR BURROWS: I can not say that they are firm because this was the plan that was developed from the Old West, from Dr. Cole basically, and what he felt that it could be done for. Now, I certainly wouldn't project that the University will not want more money in the cooperative effort that would be engaged in when they come before us. I think that this is a pattern that may very well develop. I think that it could be done for these figures. They made sense to me, and they seem reasonable to me. I think that if we stand hard and go this route...of course inflation may take it up in a year or so in proportion to inflation.
